

COLLEGE OF HEALTH AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE HIRING, SEARCH AND SCREEN PLANNING PROCESS

The College of Health and Human Performance is committed to actively pursuing excellence and diversity in faculty recruitment. In pursuit of this objective, all faculty searches in HHP are to be consistent with university policies and procedures. Search Committee Members should review in its entirety the *UF Faculty Search Committee Toolkit*¹ and must successfully complete the certification process. Certificates can be acquired by completing the University's on-line Search Committee tutorial². Certificates of completion, valid for two years, are filed within the HHP Dean's Office.³

Fundamental principles underlying the hiring process include:

The administrative officers responsible for each appointment must determine faculty sentiment concerning incumbent and prospective department heads and colleagues, and they must seriously take such sentiment into account.

- Mechanisms for accurately gauging faculty opinions are essential. A decision contrary to the expressed wishes of a majority of the faculty of the affected department requires a compelling reason.
- Specific methods of including broad faculty participation in the process will enhance the institution's reputation, aid in recruiting the best faculty, promote a positive relationship between the faculty and the college/university administration, and ensure that all levels of the university function effectively.

The following procedures are intended to provide guidance in that process.

¹ “General Note: This Toolkit provides guidance for good searches to further high priorities of the University and its mission. The requirements for Search Committee members to complete information Tutorials or Workshops and undertake a Viable Outreach Process (VOP) and for Deans or their designees to review and confirm the VOP are obligations of members of the University community. Failure to fulfill these obligations may be grounds for the University to impose consequences. However, as to any applicant, this Toolkit does not constitute a University regulation, policy or procedure in itself and searches that do not adhere in any particular way to this Toolkit are not, for that reason, invalid or improper searches. University regulations, policies and procedures in effect from time to time and as interpreted by the University continue to govern searches and hiring and supersede any summaries of such regulations, policies and procedures in this Toolkit if there are any inconsistencies. Provisions of applicable collective bargaining agreements in effect from time to time govern in the event of any inconsistency with any provision of this Toolkit.” (Faculty Recruitment Toolkit, retrieved on-line).

³ Certificates indicating completion of a University sponsored recruitment tutorial or workshop is required of all Search Committee members upon appointment and prior to participating in a search, if recruitment workshop information has not previously been obtained or the certificate indicating completion is no longer in effect. This is an expectation equal to Committee meeting attendance and application review.
