Course Description

This course provides an examination of the intersection of sport and society: implications of class, race, and gender-based social issues in youth, college, and professional sport structures.

Purpose of the Course

Social Issues in Sport is designed to acquaint students with the principles and applications of social issues within the sport industry. The course is grounded in sociological research and requires critical thinking to investigate the links between many of the major issues facing sport organizations today. Specifically, we will assess the intersection of race and sports, gender and sports, class and sports, media and sports, as well as the issues plaguing youth, college, and professional sports in American society.

Course Objectives

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Think critically and articulate how sports impact society as well as how society impacts sports
- Articulate and explain the major sociological issues associated with gender, social class, race, and media, in sports
- Describe the business of youth, college, and professional sports from a sociological perspective
- Describe how competition and the professional commercial model of sport have an impact on the youth and college sport system
- Gain an enlightened understanding of the relationship between society and sports
- Provide clear solutions that sport leaders can use to improve many issues challenging sports in contemporary society

Course Policies

Assignment Submissions and Exam Details and Deadlines:

- All written submissions be submitted through Canvas prior to the assigned deadline. All Reading Quizzes and exams should be completed prior the assigned deadline. Written assignments, Reading Quizzes, and exams will be available on Canvas during a specified window in which assignments can be viewed and submitted, and quizzes and exams can be taken.
- A grading rubric for all written assignments is available on the respective assignment pages in Canvas. Written assignments are expected reflect college-level writing: proper grammar and punctuation, correct spelling, and coherently organized sentences and paragraphs. Reflection Papers should be double spaced, and all citations (required) should follow APA formatting. All written assignments will be screened for plagiarism through the “Turn-it-in” plagiarism software.

Attendance and Make Up Policy:

- If you miss a class, please speak with another student in the class to catch up on missed work, activities, etc.
- Make Up Work: If submission/exam taking arrangements are not made prior to the assignment/exam deadline, late work will be accepted for 75% credit within one (1) day late, and 50% credit within two (2) days late. No late work will be accepted after two (2) days past the due date. Individual circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis if communicated with me.

Professionalism:

- Students are expected to engage in the class lectures and discussions. Thus, required readings should be completed prior to the class period in which they will be covered.
- Students are expected to respect the opinions and experiences of class members. Disruptive or disrespectful students will be asked to leave the class if their behavior is detrimental to the class atmosphere. If a student continues to be disruptive, the student will be reported to the University.
- Phones and laptops are welcomed in class, as researching information during class periods will be encouraged. However, during in-class time, devices should only be used for the purposes of engaging in lectures or discussions. Students are expected to refrain from recreational browsing, or shopping, or social media, or anything not related to class during class periods. Failure to engage in lectures and discussions will affect the participation grade.

- All correspondence with me should be through email. Please don't expect that I will remember details of a conversation that occurs before, during, or after class. If you need to discuss assignments, exams, absences, or anything that requires arranging, those arrangements must be communicated through email.

Respect for Diversity

It is my intent that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well-served by this course, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that the students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength and benefit. It is my intent to present materials and activities that are respectful of diversity: gender identity, sexuality, disability, age, socioeconomic status, ethnicity, race, nationality, religion, and culture. Your suggestions are encouraged and appreciated. Please let me know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally, or for other students or student groups.

Important note: Given that some of the material discussed in class may be sensitive or difficult, it is imperative that there be an atmosphere of trust and safety in the classroom. I will attempt to foster an environment in which each class member is able to hear and respect each other. It is critical that each class member show respect for all worldviews expressed in class. It is expected that some of the material in this course may evoke strong emotions, please be respectful of others' emotions and be mindful of your own. Please let me know if something said or done in the classroom, by either myself or other students, is particularly troubling or causes discomfort or offense. While our intention may not be to cause discomfort or offense, the impact of what happens throughout the course is not to be ignored and is something that I consider to be very important and deserving of attention. If and when this occurs, there are several ways to alleviate some of the discomfort or hurt you may experience:

1. Discuss the situation privately with me. I am always open to listening to students' experiences, and want to work with students to find acceptable ways to process and address the issue.
2. Discuss the situation with the class. Chances are there is at least one other student in the class who had a similar response to the material. Discussion enhances the ability for all class participants to have a fuller understanding of context and impact of course material and class discussions.
3. Notify me of the issue through another source such as your academic advisor, a trusted faculty member, or a peer. If for any reason you do not feel comfortable discussing the issue directly with me, I encourage you to seek out another, more comfortable avenue to address the issue.

Course Format

This course is comprised of eight (8) modules consisting of lecture, discussion, readings, and learning assessments. Lectures and discussions will take place during class meeting periods. Module content and course information is available on the course E-Learning (Canvas) site. Student learning is assessed on content from in-class lectures, in-class discussions, and module readings and media reports posted on the Canvas site.

Module Structure:

Each module consists of two in-class segments. The first segment of each module consists of an introduction to the topic, lecture, and discussion of the course readings (content). The Reading Quiz (with a few exceptions) is due in the first segment of the modules. The second segment of each module is an examination of the topic through the lens of current media: applying what was learned from the module content to evaluating the manner in which the issues are presented in the media, and how the topic manifests in current society/culture.

Module Readings and Videos:

Module readings and videos are listed in the Course Outline (at the end of this syllabus) and on each module page in Canvas. For each module, the readings and videos listed are required unless otherwise noted. Required readings and videos (other than chapters in the course text) are linked to the corresponding module page in Canvas. Readings listed for segment one of each module comprise the primary course content; readings and videos for segment two provide an application of media to the module topic. Throughout the semester, additional readings or videos not appearing in the course outline may be added as required module content.

- Reading Quizzes: A quiz for each module is administered at the end of segment one and only covers the module readings (does not cover the media presentations in segment two of the modules). Each Reading Quiz consists of 10 questions that are multiple choice, true/false, or short-answer. The Reading Quizzes are administered through Canvas.
- Reflection Paper: The Reflection Paper is a critical evaluation and application of the module readings, in-class discussions, and media presentations. It is a response (or responses) to a prompt (or prompts) on the topics presented within the modules. The assignment grade is based on the student's ability to a) identify critical elements of the modules that are relevant to the prompt, b) leverage facts and figures (information) across modules to support the response, c) synthesize elements of the readings, in-class discussions, and media presentations to effectively respond to the prompt(s), and d) effectively communicate the response. See the Reflection Paper assignment page on Canvas for specific requirements and instructions to submit the assignment.
- Discussion Groups: Discussion Groups, or "Pods" will meet every Friday in lieu of Class (except for Weeks 1 and 2). Each week, groups will receive a prompt to discuss during their Discussion Groups. The first week of class, each assigned group will decide for itself how they will meet (outside, inside, via Zoom), when, and what the group expectations will be. At the mid-point and end of semester, peers within the group will assess whether each group member is meeting the group expectations. Each Monday, groups will be randomly asked to share their discussion from the previous week's pod.

Cumulative Course Assessments:

Mid-term Exam: The mid-term exam covers modules 1 through 4. The mid-term consists of short- answer/short essay questions. Responses are graded based on a) the depth of analysis of the issue(s) presented in the module, and b) critical thinking regarding how the issue(s) affect or are affected by cultural/societal influences. Specifics facts and figures are not required to support responses, but responses should demonstrate an understanding of the interaction between sport and society in regard to the specific topic. The mid-term exam is administered through Canvas.

Final Exam: The final exam is in the same format, with the same requirements, as the mid-term exam. The final exam is also administered through Canvas.

Class Engagement: Class engagement is critical to fulfilling student learning objectives. Engagement means thoughtful learning and discussing the course content throughout the semester. I realize that not everyone is always comfortable speaking in class, and with a large class, it is not always easy to participate. Engagement can happen through group discussions, attending office hours, or showing deep engagement with all the material on assignments.

Grading and Point Distribution

Module Reading Quizzes (10 points each X 7 Modules)	70 points
Reflection Papers (60 points X 3 Papers)	180 points
Discussion Groups	60 points

Course Evaluations

Students are expected to provide feedback on the quality of instruction in this course based on 10 criteria. These evaluations are conducted online at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu>. Evaluations are typically open during the last two or three weeks of the semester, but students will be given specific times when they are open. Summary results of these assessments are available to students at <https://evaluations.ufl.edu/results>.

You Matter, We Care:

Your well-being is important to the University of Florida. The U Matter, We Care initiative is committed to creating a culture of care on our campus by encouraging members of our community to look out for one another and to reach out for help if a member of our community is in need. If you or a friend is in distress, please contact umatter@ufl.edu so that the U Matter, We Care Team can reach out to the student in distress. A nighttime or weekend crisis counselor is available by phone at 352-392- 1575. The U Matter, We Care Team can help connect students to the many other helping resources available including, but not limited to, Victim Advocates, Housing staff, and the Counseling and Wellness Center. Please remember that asking for help is a sign of strength. In case of emergency, call 911.

Honor Code Policy

“We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.”

The following pledge will be either required or implied on all work:

“On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment”

It is the duty of the student to abide by all rules set forth in the UF Undergraduate Catalog. Students are responsible for reporting any circumstances, which may facilitate academic dishonesty.

University Policy on Academic Misconduct: Academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the University community. Students should be sure that they understand the UF Student Honor Code at <http://www.dso.ufl.edu/students.php>.

“The University of Florida holds its students to the highest standards, and we encourage students to read the University of Florida Student Honor Code and Student Conduct Code (Regulation 4.040), so they are aware of our standards. Any violation of the Student Honor Code will result in a referral the Student Conduct and Conflict Resolution and may result in academic sanctions and further student conduct action. The two greatest threats to the academic integrity of the University of Florida are cheating and plagiarism. Students should be aware of their faculty’s policy on collaboration, should understand how to properly cite sources, and should not give nor receive an improper academic advantage in any manner through any medium.”

*Students are encouraged to review and discuss unit content with other students but are not permitted to collaborate with other students on any written submission or quiz in this course.

University Policy on Accommodating Students with Disabilities: Students requesting accommodation for disabilities must first register with the Dean of Students Office (<http://www.dso.ufl.edu/drc/>). The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. You must submit this documentation prior to submitting assignments or taking the quizzes or exams. Accommodations are not retroactive, therefore, students should contact the office as soon as possible in the term for which they are seeking accommodations.

Canvas Help: For issues with technical difficulties for E-learning @ UF, please contact the UF Help Desk at:

Class Recording

Students are allowed to record video or audio of class lectures. However, the purposes for which these recordings may be used are strictly controlled. The only allowable purposes are (1) for personal educational use, (2) in connection with a complaint to the university, or (3) as evidence in, or in preparation for, a criminal or civil proceeding. All other purposes are prohibited. Specifically, students may not publish recorded lectures without the written consent of the instructor.

A “class lecture” is an educational presentation intended to inform or teach enrolled students about a particular subject, including any instructor-led discussions that form part of the presentation, and delivered by any instructor hired or appointed by the University, or by a guest instructor, as part of a University of Florida course. A class lecture does not include lab sessions, student presentations, clinical presentations such as patient history, academic exercises involving solely student participation, assessments (quizzes, tests, exams), field trips, private conversations between students in the class or between a student and the faculty or lecturer during a class session.

Publication without permission of the instructor is prohibited. To “publish” means to share, transmit, circulate, distribute, or provide access to a recording, regardless of format or medium, to another person (or persons), including but not limited to another student within the same class section. Additionally, a recording, or transcript of a recording, is considered published if it is posted on or uploaded to, in whole or in part, any media platform, including but not limited to social media, book, magazine, newspaper, leaflet, or third party note/tutoring services. A student who publishes a recording without written consent may be subject to a civil cause of action instituted by a person injured by the publication and/or discipline under UF Regulation 4.040 Student Policy on Course Syllabi 3 UF, Academic Affairs, August 5th, 2021 Honor Code and Student Conduct Code.
