

Department of Tourism, Recreation and Sport Management
Assistant Professor in Sport Management (Two Positions)

Position: Assistant Professor in Sport Management (tenure accruing position). The University of Florida (UF) invites applications and nominations for two sport management faculty positions at the Assistant Professor rank. As a member of the Association of American Universities, UF (<http://www.ufl.edu>) is a Land-Grant and Sea-Grant institution, encompassing virtually all academic and professional disciplines. The Department of Tourism, Recreation and Sport Management (www.hhp.ufl.edu/trsm) currently enrolls approximately 900 students (750 undergraduates, 150 graduates) with 19 full-time faculty members, and provides nationally and internationally recognized education and research programs. The academic environment is rich in research and professional opportunities in the sport industry.

Responsibilities: Initiate and maintain an active research agenda with a focused research line that results in high impact scholarship in such areas as sport finance, organizational behavior, socio-cultural aspects of sport organizations, risk management/legal aspects of sport, sport marketing and consumer behavior, participatory sport and community health, and event management; prepare and mentor Ph.D. students in addition to advising master's students majoring in sport management; and engage in professional service activities. Candidates must be able to teach one or more of the following undergraduate and graduate courses: sport finance, legal aspects of sport, sport sociology, sport marketing, or organizational behavior of sport organizations.

Qualifications: Earned doctorate in sport management or related field of study by time of employment; established or emerging scholar in sport management with an active research agenda; and committed to excellence to teaching and service. The College of Health and Human Performance is committed to building a culturally diverse faculty and staff, a key factor in maintaining excellence in teaching and research in our global society. Thus, among other qualifications, we will favorably consider an applicant's record of including in research, teaching and service, diverse backgrounds, experiences, races, ethnicities, genders, and perspectives.

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Effective Date of Employment:

August 16, 2012. This is a 9-month full-time appointment with possible opportunities for summer teaching/employment.

Application Deadline:

All application materials must be submitted by November 11, 2011.

Application Process:

To be considered for either or both of these positions, applications must be submitted on-line at <https://jobs.ufl.edu> (position # 00006437 requisition # 0809423) and must include a letter of application with a statement of career goals, research interests and accomplishments; curriculum vitae; names, mailing addresses, and e-mail addresses and telephone numbers of at least three references. Inquiries and nominations about this position should be directed to the Chair of the Search Committee:

Dr. Yong Jae Ko, Associate Professor

College of Health and Human Performance, P. O. Box 118208

University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611-8208

Tel. 352-294-1665

Fax 352-392-7588

E-mail yongko@hhp.ufl.edu

The University of Florida is an equal opportunity institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Minorities, women, and those from other underserved groups are encouraged to apply. The selection process will be conducted in accord with the provisions of Florida's 'Government in the Sunshine' and Public Records Laws. Search Committee meetings and interviews will be open to the public, and applications, resumes, and other documents related to the search will be available for public inspection. If an accommodation due to disability is needed to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-7056 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD).